TODD R. SNYDER, AS PLAN ADMINISTRATOR FOR THE
TERRAFORM LABS PTE. LTD., ET AL.,
EACH POST-EFFECTIVE DATE
DEBTOR, AND THE WIND DOWN
TRUST,

Plaintiff,

v.

JANE STREET GROUP, LLC; JANE
STREET CAPITAL, LLC; BRYCE
PRATT; ROBERT GRANIERI; AND MICHAEL HUANG,

Defendants.

CASE NO. 1:26-cv-1504

COMPLAINT

JURY TRIAL DEMANDED

Plaintiff Todd R. Snyder, as Plan Administrator for the jointly administered estates of Terraform Labs Pte. Ltd and Terraform Labs Limited and the Wind Down Trust established under the Second Amended Chapter 11 Plan of Liquidation entered in In re Terraform Labs Pte. Ltd. et al., Case No. 24-10070 (Bankr. D. Del.) (the “Plaintiff”), and as assignee of claims from Luna Foundation Guard (“LFG”) and the individuals listed in Exhibit A (the “Individual Victims”), by and through his undersigned counsel, alleges as follows against Jane Street Group, LLC and Jane Street Capital, LLC (together, “Jane Street”); and Bryce Pratt, Robert Granieri, and Michael Huang (the “Individual Jane Street Defendants”), together the “Jane Street Defendants” or “Defendants.”

INTRODUCTION

1. The promise of cryptocurrency is a trading system that is transparent, efficient, and accountable to stakeholders. In this case, however, Jane Street Capital and its traders exploited the public’s participation in crypto markets and contributed to the collapse of Terraform’s cryptocurrency ecosystem. They did so by misappropriating confidential information and manipulating market prices. Insider trading stands as a timeless violation, condemned by statute, by precedent, and by fundamental principles of fair dealing. The Jane Street Defendants' violations here echo the worst abuses of traditional finance, now repackaged for the digital age.

2. Jane Street is one of the world's largest quantitative trading firms, and its trading revenue is more than double that of the world's largest hedge fund. Jane Street has touted that "[t]echnology is central to everything we do," but its misconduct in this case was decidedly low-tech. [REDACTED]

[REDACTED] Jane Street used [REDACTED] and other backchannel sources of non-public information to front-run trading that hastened the collapse of Terraform. Its abuse of material non-public information from insider [REDACTED] allowed Jane Street to unwind hundreds of millions of dollars in potential exposure at precisely the right time, mere hours before the Terraform ecosystem collapsed, [REDACTED]

3. Jane Street [REDACTED] on these trades—trades that would have been impossible without the inside information to which it had unique access. And when the scrutiny of Jane Street intensified after other investors, including thousands of individual investors, lost billions of dollars in the Terraform collapse, [REDACTED] since May 2022, Jane Street has not accessed the wallet that it used to execute the trades that contributed to Terraform's collapse.

4. The Jane Street Defendants' scheme was not a complicated one. They leveraged connections with Terraform insiders to learn material non-public information about Terraform—
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]—that gave Jane Street a massive advantage in the market. Using that insider information, Jane Street sold off its [REDACTED]
[REDACTED] UST at the opportune moment—on May 7, 2022—to maximize its own profits and avoid substantial losses. Within hours of Jane Street selling its UST holdings, UST was depegged from $1 and the entire Terraform ecosystem, including the UST and Luna cryptocurrencies, was in a death spiral. Jane Street did not stop there: using the confidential information it learned, [REDACTED]
[REDACTED]

5. This case is about settling accounts. It is about ensuring some measure of accountability in the wake of Terraform's collapse. The Plan Administrator was appointed by the Bankruptcy Court to pursue claims against those, like Jane Street and its traders and executives, who profited from, and contributed to, Terraform's death spiral. In this action, the Plan Administrator seeks all remedies available at law and equity against Jane Street and the Individual Jane Street Defendants for insider trading, fraud, and market manipulation. Pursuant to the mandate of the Bankruptcy Court, the Plan Administrator asks the Court to order Jane Street to disgorge the wrongful gains reaped through its misconduct—for the benefit of those who lost their investments in the Terraform collapse.

JURISDICTION AND VENUE

6. This Court has subject matter jurisdiction over Plaintiffs' claims under Sections 10(b) (15 U.S.C. § 78j) and 20A of the Exchange Act (15 U.S.C. § 78t-1), SEC Rule 10b-5 (17

C.F.R. § 240.10b-5), Section 6(c)(1) of the Commodity Exchange Act (7 U.S.C. §§ 9, 25), CFTC Rule 180.1 (17 CFR § 180.1) under 28 U.S.C. § 1331 as they are based on federal laws.

7. This Court has supplemental jurisdiction over the state claims under 28 U.S.C. § 1367(a) because they arise out of the same case or controversy as Plaintiffs' claims based on federal law.

8. This Court has exclusive jurisdiction over Plaintiffs' Commodities Exchange Act claims under to 7 U.S.C. § 25(c).

9. Venue is proper in this Judicial District under 28 U.S.C. § 1391(b), Section 27 of the Exchange Act (15 U.S.C. § 78aa(c)), and Section 22 of the Commodity Exchange Act (7 U.S.C. § 25(c)). Substantial acts in furtherance of the Jane Street Defendants' insider trading scheme and the effects of these unlawful activities have occurred in this Judicial District. Many of the acts charged herein occurred in substantial part in this Judicial District.

10. In connection with the acts, transactions, and conduct alleged herein, Defendants directly and indirectly used the means and instrumentalities of interstate commerce, including the U.S. mail, interstate telephone communications, and the facilities of a national securities exchange.

PARTIES TO THE ACTION

11. Plaintiff Todd R. Snyder is a resident of New York. He is the Plan Administrator for the Terraform Labs Wind-Down Trust (the "Wind Down Trust"). He was appointed under the Second Amended Plan of Reorganization for Terraform Labs Pte, Ltd., et al. (the "Plan"), as confirmed by the United States Bankruptcy Court for the District of Delaware (the "Bankruptcy Court") on September 20, 2024, which also established the Wind Down Trust. Under the Plan, all assets of Terraform Labs Pte. Ltd. and Terraform Labs Limited (together, "Terraform") were transferred to the Wind Down Trust, and from the effective date of the Plan on October 1, 2024, the Plan Administrator has the authority to carry out and implement all provisions of the Plan.

This authority includes: (a) running the claims reconciliation process; (b) making distributions required by the Plan; (c) maximizing the value of the assets of the Wind Down Trust and Terraform, including by bringing litigation on account of any causes of action held by Terraform or the Wind Down Trust; and (d) reviewing and compelling turnover of the property of Terraform or the Wind Down Trust. In short, Plaintiff is charged with monetizing any assets transferred to the Wind Down Trust and distributing such funds to creditors and has authority under the Plan to pursue compensation claims on behalf of injured creditors.

12. One of Plaintiff's principal responsibilities is to seek compensation on behalf of creditors who were harmed by the collapse of the Terraform ecosystem. The Plaintiff is empowered by order of the Bankruptcy Court to pursue claims against actors like the Jane Street Defendants who unlawfully profited from, and contributed to, the failure of Terraform. The Plaintiff will use recoveries secured in litigation against these Defendants to fund the compensation dedicated to creditors under the Plan.¹

13. In this case, Plaintiff brings direct claims on behalf of Terraform, LFG, and certain individuals who lost their investment in Terraform's crypto tokens.

14. Terraform purchased UST and Luna contemporaneous with Jane Street's sale of UST on May 7, 2022. In particular:

- On May 7, 2022, Terraform purchased over 250 million UST.
- On May 8, 2022, Terraform purchased over 200 million UST.
- Between May 8 and May 10, 2022, Terraform purchased over 1.9 billion UST.
- Between May 8 and May 11, 2022, Terraform purchased over 90 million Luna.

15. Plaintiff also brings claims that LFG has assigned to the Wind Down Trust. LFG was established as a Singaporean Public Company limited by Guarantee in 2021 by Terraform's co-founder, Do Kwon. LFG was created in late 2021 to serve as a reserve that could protect UST against a subsequent depeg.

16. LFG purchased UST and Luna contemporaneous with Jane Street's sale of UST on May 7, 2022. In particular:

- On May 8, 2022, LFG purchased over 50 million UST.
- Between May 7 and May 15, 2022, LFG and third parties acting on LFG's behalf used LFG assets to purchase additional UST.
- On May 7, 2022, LFG held approximately 700,000 UST and 1.7 million Luna. On May 16, 2022, those balances had ballooned to over 1.8 billion UST (an increase of more than 1.7 billion) and over 222 million Luna (an increase of more than 221 million).

17. Finally, Plaintiff also brings claims assigned to the Wind Down Trust by the Individual Victims. As part of the Bankruptcy Plan, the individuals who had invested in Terraform's crypto tokens and lost their investments with the Terraform collapse (known in the Plan as Crypto Loss Claimants) were allowed to assign to the Wind Down Trust their individual claims against third parties related to Terraform. The individuals who assigned their claims are defined herein as the Individual Victims and are listed on Exhibit A. Under the Plan, the terms of the assignments, and the Wind Down Trust Agreement, the Plan Administrator is authorized to pursue these claims that the Individual Victims assigned to the Wind Down Trust.

18. The Individual Victims traded UST and/or Luna between May 7, 2022 and May 31, 2022.

19. Defendant Jane Street Group, LLC is a trading firm in the financial services industry. Jane Street is a Delaware limited liability company with its principal place of business in New York, New York.

20. Defendant Jane Street Capital, LLC is a Jane Street entity with its principal place of business in New York, New York. Jane Street Capital, LLC is a registered brokerage firm with FINRA.

21. Individual Jane Street Defendant Robert Granieri is a co-founder of Jane Street, based in New York, New York. [REDACTED]

[REDACTED]

[REDACTED]

[REDACTED]

[REDACTED]

Granieri then appropriated that material non-public information for the benefit of the Jane Street Defendants.

22. Individual Jane Street Defendant Bryce Pratt is a Jane Street employee based in New York, New York, who was directly involved in [REDACTED]

[REDACTED] Before working at Jane Street, Pratt worked at Terraform, and maintained close relationships with many employees of Terraform, including Terraform's head of research and other employees.

23. Individual Jane Street Defendant Michael Huang is a trader at Jane Street based in New York, New York, who was [REDACTED]

Cryptocurrency and the Use of the Blockchain

24. Cryptocurrency is a digital form of currency that uses cryptographic principles, like coded algorithms, to secure transactions. Most cryptocurrencies are maintained by a decentralized system, as opposed to a centralized authority like a bank.

25. One challenge with digital currency is preventing duplication, which would render the currency valueless. Traditional currencies employ anti-counterfeiting technologies like watermarks that make the currency difficult to duplicate, but these technologies do not have ready analogues in the digital environment. So cryptocurrencies rely on blockchain technology, a mechanism that allows for secure, traceable transfers of digital assets from one recipient to another.

26. Bitcoin, the first prominent digital asset, secured transactions through use of the “blockchain,” a digital ledger system that tracks the ownership and transfer of every Bitcoin in existence. Bitcoin owners have a digital “address” where they receive Bitcoin. The Bitcoin blockchain publicly lists every address and the number of Bitcoin transactions associated with that address. As a result, anyone looking at the blockchain can see every Bitcoin transaction of each digital address. This transparency has enabled the secure exchange of Bitcoin because the blockchain allows for the identification (and thus prevention) of any duplication or transfer of a Bitcoin token to multiple people.

27. The blockchain is now a routine technology in cryptocurrency. Most cryptocurrency platforms rely on the blockchain to ensure that transactions are secure, transparent, and non-duplicable. A blockchain “protocol” is an algorithm that determines how a blockchain, or a specific feature of a blockchain, functions. A blockchain protocol can record smart contracts, which automatically execute the terms of a contract when certain triggering conditions are met.

28. Transferring cryptocurrency to another user is similar to transferring funds from one bank account to another. The owner transferring the crypto tokens must know the recipient's "public key," which creates an address akin to the account number of a conventional banking account. The transferor then has their own personal "private key" that acts as a PIN number, allowing them to access their funds and authorize a transfer between accounts.

29. The addresses used in the transfer are then publicly recorded on the blockchain. However, the names of the individuals or entities that own those addresses are not listed publicly.

30. Many cryptocurrency tokens can experience wide price fluctuations, causing volatility of the asset. Stablecoins are a type of cryptocurrency designed to combat such volatility. The key feature of a stablecoin is that it pegs its value to another asset, such as another coin or fiat currency like the U.S. dollar.

31. There are two main types of stablecoins—reserve-backed stablecoins and algorithmic stablecoins. A company issuing a reserve-backed stablecoin backs the stablecoin with a reserve of assets (generally cash, securities, or other crypto tokens), which is designed to maintain the stablecoin's price peg and ensure that holders can redeem their stablecoin for its established value.

32. A company issuing an algorithmic stablecoin, on the other hand, does not maintain reserves to back the value of the stablecoin. Rather, algorithmic stablecoins rely on an algorithm to maintain the price peg. Algorithms operate in various ways, either creating or burning tokens to maintain the peg, or offering various discounts for holders to burn the stablecoin in exchange for a secondary companion token.

Terraform Creates and Markets UST as an Algorithmic Stablecoin

33. Terraform was an open-source software development company specializing in blockchain technology.

34. Terraform’s co-founder Do Kwon and others began developing the Terra network in 2018. Kwon and Terraform proposed a novel approach to avoid the price volatility that can plague cryptocurrencies. They detailed this approach in a whitepaper announcing the creation of the Terra Classic Blockchain and the Luna Classic token.²

35. On April 24, 2019, Terraform minted one billion Luna Classic (“Luna”) tokens, the native token of the Terra Classic Blockchain. Terraform later issued TerraUSD (“UST”), a “stablecoin” whose value was intended to be equivalent—or pegged—to one U.S. dollar. Under the Terra protocol, Luna tokens were programmatically tradable with UST.

36. Despite UST and Luna being securities that were offered for sale to U.S. investors, they were never registered with the Securities & Exchange Commission. No valid exemption from the registration requirements applied.

37. As Terraform and its founders explained during UST’s rollout to the market, the UST stablecoin was maintained by a computer algorithm. To maintain the UST’s “peg” to the dollar, Luna and UST were connected via a mint-burn protocol. Under this protocol, a single UST could be exchanged and “burned” for one dollar’s worth of Luna, and one dollar’s worth of Luna could be exchanged to “mint” one UST. These rules theoretically incentivized holders of Luna to arbitrage between the two currencies, in turn maintaining the par value of UST.

38. For example, in the event the price for UST rose above a dollar—i.e., above its “peg”—holders would be incentivized to swap a dollar’s worth of Luna to “mint” and receive one UST, then valued above a dollar. With traders thus minting additional UST, supplies of UST would rise and accordingly create downward pressure on the price of UST, moving it toward its target value of one dollar. On the other hand, in the event the price of UST dropped below a dollar, a holder would be incentivized to “burn” one UST, then valued below a dollar, to receive a dollar’s worth of Luna. This activity would inevitably lower the supply of UST and create pressure to raise the price of UST back toward its “peg” value of a dollar.

39. In March 2021, Terraform also launched what it called the Anchor Protocol (“Anchor”). Anchor was a way for investors to “deposit”—or “stake”—their UST and earn a flat 20% interest rate. Terraform could then use the UST deposited through Anchor to loan out to borrowers.

40. The Terra blockchain protocol, UST, Luna, Anchor, and associated tokens and platforms formed the decentralized network of the “Terraform Ecosystem.”

41. In May 2021, UST experienced a significant depeg event. In the context of a stablecoin, a “depeg” occurs when the price of the stablecoin begins materially to vary from the price of the underlying asset to which the coin’s price is pegged. In the case of UST, a depeg would mean that one UST was no longer worth one U.S. dollar, and UST would no longer be “stable.” For Terra, a sustained depeg posed a real-world test of its claim that its algorithm could support UST’s peg even in a volatile environment. The results would impact Terraform and investors.

42. On May 19, 2021, the value of UST began to dip below one dollar. Unbeknownst to the market, a large trading firm intervened, purchasing large amounts of UST to artificially restore the peg outside of the arbitrage mechanism theoretically designed to serve this purpose. Within days of this depeg event, the price of UST recovered and the peg to the U.S. Dollar was restored.

43. In January 2022, Terraform announced the creation of the Luna Foundation Guard (“LFG”). LFG was publicly described as an independent entity created to help defend the UST peg. LFG would build reserves to support the UST peg amid volatile market conditions and would allocate resources to support the growth and development of the Terraform Ecosystem through grants.

44. Terraform contributed millions of Luna tokens worth over $5.5 billion to LFG. In the months that followed, LFG sold some of those Luna tokens to compile a significant reserve of Bitcoin, other stablecoins, and other assets, valued at over $3 billion in aggregate.

45. Despite these efforts, UST experienced a much more destabilizing depeg event in May 2022. After that, UST never recovered its $1 peg value.

Jane Street’s Involvement in the Crypto Market

46. Jane Street is a quantitative trading firm founded in 1999. Since that time, it has grown to be a massively profitable operation, boasting over $10 billion in net trading revenue and nearly $6 billion in net profits in 2023. It did even better in 2024, bringing in nearly $20.5 billion in net trading revenue and nearly $13 billion in net profits. And in the first three quarters of 2025, Jane Street’s net trading revenue jumped to over $24 billion.

47. Today, Jane Street is behind more than 10% of all equity trades in North America, and its trading revenue is more than double that of the world’s largest hedge fund. And because Jane Street is a quantitative trading firm and not a hedge fund, it is exempted from detailed disclosure requirements, allowing Jane Street to avoid revealing its trading strategies and financial details.

48. In 2017, Jane Street made the leap into the then-nascent cryptocurrency market, and soon became an investor in the cryptocurrency industry. As an investor, Jane Street participated in various cryptocurrency investment activities, including market making activities as well as Over-the-Counter (“OTC”) trading.

Jane Street and Terraform’s Chats: [REDACTED]

49. Jane Street eventually turned its attention to Terraform, with the potential for trading Terraform’s primary tokens, UST and Luna, to garner significant returns.

50. In 2018, Jane Street first connected with Terraform and expressed interest in OTC trading. Terraform was open to “collaborate on [OTC] if Jane Street can give us good rates.” Throughout the late months of 2018, conversations progressed and the parties ultimately completed the onboarding process, with Terraform completing Jane Street’s questionnaire and going through Jane Street’s KYC (Know Your Customer) checks. By November 2018, Jane Street was available to Terraform for OTC trading.

51. But Jane Street’s trading in Terraform’s tokens did not take off until February 2022, when Jane Street deployed Bryce Pratt to establish lines of communication with his former colleagues at Terraform. His employment history uniquely situated Pratt to seamlessly pass information from Terraform to Jane Street.

52. In the summer of 2021, Pratt took an internship at Terraform, where he worked as a software engineer. While there, Pratt developed close relationships with numerous Terraform employees, including Terraform’s Head of Research and other employees.

53. Like all Terraform employees, Pratt was required to “comply with all Company regulations including the Code of Ethics.” Terraform’s Code of Ethics specifically contained an insider trading policy designed in part to prevent insiders from “providing MNPI to other persons who may trade Luna tokens on the basis of that information.” The policy explicitly prohibits employees from “disclos[ing] any MNPI concerning the Companies or mak[ing] any recommendations or express[ing] opinions on the basis of MNPI as to trading in Luna tokens to any persons or entities (including, but not limited to, family members, friends, social acquaintances, investors, external business partners).”

54. This policy went into effect on May 3, 2019, and all Terraform employees, directors, and officers were subject to this policy.

55. During Pratt’s internship at Terraform, he communicated daily with Terraform’s Head of Research, who was both a friend and mentor to Pratt.

56. Pratt and one of Terraform’s employees similarly communicated frequently during his internship and developed a close friendship.

57. On multiple occasions during his internship with Terraform, Pratt referenced his future job at Jane Street. For instance, in one conversation, Pratt joked to a Terraform employee about Pratt’s upcoming job with Jane Street and discussed the possibility of working together at Jane Street in the future. During a later conversation, another Terraform employee offered to introduce Pratt to his friends at Jane Street when Pratt started his full-time job.

58. Pratt maintained these relationships with his former Terraform colleagues after he finished at Terraform and started at Jane Street.

59. Several of Pratt’s friends and acquaintances from his time as an intern continued to work at Terraform following Pratt’s departure.

60. In September 2021, just months after his Terraform internship ended, Pratt started a position at Jane Street.

61. Given Jane Street’s interest in cryptocurrency, Pratt leveraged the relationships he had developed at Terraform to feed material non-public information to Jane Street’s crypto desk.

63. In February 2022, Jane Street employees internally [REDACTED]

72. In these emails, Pratt explained that Jane Street was “interested in opening up lines of communication regarding OTC and other forms of investment in Terra.”

73. Based on Jane Street’s earlier communications about OTC trading and this more recent dialogue, Terraform understood and expected that Jane Street would keep confidential their communications and the information Terraform provided.

74. Thanks to Pratt’s introductions, the parties began regularly communicating. They first discussed the structure and scope of a potential Jane Street investment in Terraform, but Jane Street turned those communications into a back-channel source for material non-public information about Terraform.

75. [REDACTED]

76. Throughout February and March 2022, Terraform attempted to structure a deal that would allow Jane Street to purchase Luna at a discount, since the opportunity to participate in the first round of fundraising had already closed. During those negotiations, McGuinn expressed an interest in getting into the financing round of Luna. [REDACTED] stands for “maximal extractable value” and refers to profit extracted by manipulating transaction ordering in a blockchain.³ When cryptocurrencies are traded on a blockchain, the trade is not immediate. Instead, pending transactions are temporarily publicly accessible in a waiting area, where they are sequenced to create a block that is then verified and added to the blockchain, finalizing the transaction. Those validating cryptocurrency transactions (“validators”) can reorder and sequence transactions, creating windows to exploit arbitrage opportunities and price changes.

87. At least as of May 7, 2022, Pratt had established a regular chain of communication with Terraform’s Head of Research via the instant messaging service, Telegram.

88. Pratt and Terraform’s Head of Research also had an explicit understanding that their conversations would be kept confidential, with Pratt sending information via Telegram with the request “don’t share pls.”

89. The communication line between Pratt and Terraform’s Head of Research was a two-way street. On multiple occasions, the latter also requested information from Pratt about Jane Street, such as “[w]hat JS talking about.” On these occasions, Pratt would provide Terraform’s employee with a glimpse into Jane Street.

90. It is no surprise that Terraform’s Head of Research was both providing and seeking information. By this point, he was actively seeking to be hired by Jane Street. Indeed, in late March 2022, Terraform’s then-Head of Research interviewed for a position with Jane Street. During his interview, he spoke with several Jane Street employees involved in Jane Street’s trades of UST and Luna.

First, starting on May 1, 2022, the interest rate on the Anchor protocol would decrease, gradually declining from the 20% rate to something ostensibly more sustainable. Second, Terraform, and its UST stablecoin, was going to be part of a new curve pool. A curve pool is a decentralized finance liquidity pool designed to enable efficient swapping of stablecoins. As of April 2022, the largest stablecoin pool was known as Curve3 or the 3pool, and it provided liquidity for UST and three other cryptocurrency stablecoins pegged to the U.S. dollar, namely USDC, USDT, and DAI. The 4pool, which would include UST, USDC, USDT, and FRAX, another stablecoin pegged to the U.S. Dollar, was expected to be operational in May and to become Terraform’s preferred liquidity pool for UST.

114. At 5:53 pm EST, less than ten minutes after Terraform’s withdrawal of 150 million UST from the 3pool, Jane Street made its largest single trade of UST, selling 85 million UST in one transaction. Just as it had when UST experienced another temporary depeg in May 2021, Terraform surreptitiously enlisted the help of Jump Trading—unbeknownst to the market.

Pratt went right to the top, contacting Terraform’s then-CEO Kwon to express Jane Street’s interest in bidding on either Bitcoin or Luna, including potentially buying between $200 million and $500 million at steeply discounted prices.

129. On May 9, 2022, Pratt started a group message with Kwon (Terra), Huang (Jane Street), and Moyan (Jane Street). Pratt stated, “Hey @dokwon, just wanted to express our interest in bidding on either BTC or LUNA.” Kwon responded that “Bill from Jump”—that is, Bill Disomma, Jump Trading’s co-founder—should have reached out to Jane Street to discuss a fundraiser for Terraform.

INSIDER TRADING

PURSUANT TO 15 U.S.C. § 78t-1

Violations of Section 20A of the Exchange Act

(Plan Administrator on Behalf of Terraform) (Against All Defendants)

164. Plaintiff incorporates by reference each of the paragraphs set forth above as though fully alleged herein.

165. This claim is brought on behalf of Terraform, who purchased UST or LUNA contemporaneously with Defendants' trading activity on and after May 7, 2022, and was damaged by Defendants' trading on material non-public information.

166. This claim is brought against Defendants Jane Street and the Individual Defendants under Section 20A of the Exchange Act, 15 U.S.C. § 78t-1. [REDACTED]

[REDACTED]

[REDACTED]

167. Congress enacted the Securities Act to regulate the offer and sale of securities. Congress enacted a regime of full and fair disclosure, requiring those who offer and sell securities to the investing public to provide sufficient, accurate information to allow investors to make informed decisions before they invest.

168. A digital token or crypto asset is a crypto asset security if it meets the definition of a security, which the Securities Act defines to include an “investment contract,” i.e., if it constitutes an investment of money, in a common enterprise, with a reasonable expectation of profit derived from the efforts of others. See 15 U.S.C. § 77b(a)(1) (Securities Act Section 2(a)(1)). During the relevant period, Defendants received material non-public information about, and traded in, at least two crypto asset securities that meet this definition: UST and Luna.

169. Investment contracts are instruments through which a person invests money in a common enterprise and reasonably expects profits or returns derived from the entrepreneurial or managerial efforts of others. “Both the SEC and private litigants have brought several successful actions in this Circuit predicated on crypto-assets falling within the Howey definition of an ‘investment contract.’” *SEC v. SECURITIES EXCHANGE ACT SECTION 10(b) VIOLATION
(15 U.S.C. § 78j(b); 17 CFR § 240.10b-5)
(Plan Administrator on Behalf of the Individual Victims) (Against all Defendants)

266. Plaintiff incorporates by reference each of the paragraphs set forth above as though fully alleged herein.

267. This claim is brought on behalf of the Individual Victims who purchased UST or LUNA contemporaneously with Defendants' trading activity on and after May 7, 2022, and were damaged by Defendants' insider trading.

268. This claim is brought against Defendants Jane Street and the Individual Defendants under Section 10(b) of the Securities Act, 15 U.S.C. § 78j, and § 240.10b-5 ("Rule 10b-5"). [REDACTED]

269. A digital token or crypto asset is a crypto asset security if it meets the definition of a security, which the Securities Act defines to include "investment contract," i.e., if it constitutes an investment of money, in a common enterprise, with a reasonable expectation of profit derived from the efforts of others. During the relevant period, Defendants received material non-public information about, and traded in, at least two crypto asset securities that meet this definition: UST and Luna.

270. Investment contracts are instruments through which a person invests money in a common enterprise and reasonably expects profits or returns derived from the entrepreneurial or managerial efforts of others. "Both the SEC and private litigants have brought several successful actions in this Circuit predicated on crypto-assets falling within the Howey definition of an 'investment contract.'" SEC v. Coinbase, Inc., 726 F. Supp. 3d 260, 287 (S.D.N.Y.) (Failla, J.) (collecting cases). That is because novel or unique investment vehicles constitute investment contracts, including interests in orange groves, animal breeding programs, railroads, mobile phones, crypto assets, and enterprises that exist only on the internet. See SEC v. Terraform Labs Pte. Ltd., 684 F. Supp. 3d 170, 190 (S.D.N.Y. 2023) (“[T]he reach of the [Exchange] Act does not stop with the obvious and commonplace, but must extend to ‘[n]ovel, uncommon, or irregular devices, whatever they appear to be,’ that are ‘widely offered [and sold]’ in a way that ‘established their character’ as a security.”). As the United States Supreme Court noted in SEC v. W.J. Howey Co., Congress defined “security” broadly to embody a “flexible rather than a static principle, one that is capable of adaptation to meet the countless and variable schemes devised by those who seek the use of the money of others on the promise of profits.” 328 U.S. 293, 299 (1946).

[REDACTED]

387. Jane Street's earnings on May 7 came directly at the expense of the Terraform Wind-Down Trust individual bankruptcy claimants.

388. On and after May 8, Jane Street traders relied on material non-public information, including information about UST health and stability and LUNA fundraising efforts, to short sell LUNA and UST.

389. Jane Street's short selling earnings on and after May 8 came directly at the expense of the Individual Victims.

390. Plaintiff was injured as a direct result of Defendants' unjust enrichment.

391. WHEREFORE, Plaintiff requests that the Court find that Defendants were unjustly enriched as a result of their actions, enter judgments against Defendants in favor of Plaintiff, and award Plaintiff the amount that Jane Street profited and the losses they avoided as a result of their trades supported by material non-public information.

PRAYER FOR RELIEF

WHEREFORE, Plaintiff respectfully requests that this Court grant the following relief:

- a. Enter a judgment in favor of Plaintiff on all counts of this Complaint;
- b. Enter a judgment holding Jane Street and the Individual Defendants liable for their violations;
- a. Award Plaintiff money damages from Defendants, including compensatory damages, exemplary damages, treble damages, punitive damages, lost profits, lost business value, disgorgement, and attorneys' fees and costs, in an amount to be proven at trial;
- b. Award Plaintiff pre-judgment interest, post-judgment interest, and costs of Court, to the extent permitted by law; and
- c. Award such other relief as this Court deems just and proper.

DEMAND FOR JURY TRIAL

Plaintiff demands a trial by jury of all issues so triable pursuant to Rule 38 of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure.

Dated: February 23, 2026

Respectfully submitted,

/s/ John P. Del Monaco
